HAVE THIS DAY PUBLISHED,

AN

ENGLISH AND CHINESE COOKERY
BOOK.

By J. DYER BALL,
Cook.

200 Receipts for English and Chinese.

EXTRACT FROM PREFACE.

"The Compiler has prepared this Work in consequence of several Persons having spoken to him of the great want of a Cookery Book, which could be placed in the hands of native cooks in foreign employ. It has been his endeavor to make the contents as much as possible systematic as to suit every family, so that the housewife may be enabled to cook for herself, and to have the best service of the kitchen."—

"It has been without difficulty that the phonetics as well as the terminology employed in foreign cookery has been rendered into the equivalent in Chinese. Flowing sonorous periods of a high classical style have not been retained, but the rendering of the Receipts in such a simple style as to be readily understood by the common Chinese cook, who, though able, as a rule, to read and write, is not generally a highly educated individual. The foreign resident can thus order any Dish, by showing to his Cook the Chinese translation of the English Recipe, and get what he wants, provided the Cook closely follows the instructions given."
